

WALK through places that most people only read about. Stand in the streets where vibrant Jewish communities once flourished.

HEAR Holocaust Survivors tell their stories, not from a classroom, but in the very places where history unfolded.

JOIN thousands of participants from around the world to march from Auschwitz to Birkenau on Holocaust Remembrance Day, honouring the memory of those who were murdered and those who survived.

TRAVEL to Israel, where remembrance gives way to resilience, renewal and hope. By the time you return home, you won't simply know more about Jewish history. You will understand your own place within it.

MARCH OF THE LIVING ISN'T A TOUR

It is one of the most powerful Jewish educational experiences in the world. In almost four decades, over 310,000 participants from more than 60 countries, including more than 2,300 Australians have taken this journey, walking together to remember the past, connecting with one another and carrying its lessons into the future.

The journey instilled in me a sense of responsibility. I feel a profound duty to carry these lessons forward — to educate others and to help ensure that 'Never Again' is a promise that is kept.

YOUR JOURNEY

REMEMBER.

Poland isn't simply about learning history. It's about standing where history happened. Bear witness. Because some lessons cannot be learnt from a textbook. They must be experienced.

CONNECT.

Travel with people who become lifelong friends. Hear directly from Holocaust Survivors. Experience the remarkable journey from remembrance to renewal. Understand not only what happened. But why it still matters today.

LEAD.

March of the Living doesn't end when the plane lands back in Australia. It begins. You return home with a deeper understanding of Jewish history, a stronger connection to your identity, and the confidence to stand against antisemitism, racism and hatred wherever you encounter it. History changes you. What you do afterwards is your legacy.

March of the Living is a unique program that honours, commemorates and explores the past, present, and future of the Jewish people.

It is an annual immersive educational program, which brings people of all faiths from all over the world to Poland over the period of Yom Hashoah (Holocaust Memorial Day) and to Israel over the period of Yom Hazikaron and Yom Haatzmaut (Memorial Day for Soldiers and Victims of Terror, and Israel's Day of Independence).

Soon there will be no Holocaust Survivors left to tell their stories.

The responsibility to remember and to ensure those stories are never forgotten belongs to us.

March of the Living gives you the opportunity to become part of that legacy.

Not as a visitor.

Not as an observer.

But as someone who carries these stories forward.

Someone who remembers.

Someone who speaks.

Someone who leads.
